The various committees in charge of the rally felt hopeful that it would be a great success. The decorating committee has been busy at the tabernacle and the large building has been beautifully decorated with flags and bunting.

A corps of ushers will be on hands at the tabernacle to take care of the crowd. A section of seats will be reserved for the Shelbyville crowd and the first voters. The building will hold thirty-five hundred people and it is expected to be filled.

James E. Watson, who will make the closing speech of the campaign will be welcomed by a monster crowd of his home people. The speaker will arrive here from Greensburg where he spoke this afternoon.

THEY HAD AN ARM LOAD OF SUPPLIES

Inspectors Got Ballots And Other Stationary For Election at Court House Today.

EACH ONE IS GIVEN ENOUGH

Number is Based on Number of Registered Voters And Not on Last Vote.

The inspectors from the thirty-one precincts came into the clerk's office today and received their supplies for the election next Tuesday. The county ballots were printed early this week and tied up in packages for each inspector, according to the vote which had been registered in the precinct. The registered vote, rather than the vote for the last election, is the basis for counting ballots now.

Each inspector received a few more than two ballots for every registered voter in his precinct. The State ballots, on which there are more than a dozen errors, are not so numerous. Each inspector was given a letter of instruction to give to the clerks so no mistake will be made in counting the vote from the State ballots, as there are a number of errors on them.

The following is the list of what each inspector took away with him.

Two State and county ballots for every registered voter in his precinct and twenty-five per cent. additional as required by law.

Blue pencils.
Two poll books.
Two tally papers, national and state.

Two tally papers, local.
Two election laws.
Two oaths of inspectors.

Four oaths of judges.
Four oaths of clerk.
Four oaths disqualifying judge of election board.

Eight additional oaths of members of election board.

Four appointments and oaths of election sheriffs.

Ten voters' affidavits on general challenge.

Ten affidavits of electors of information and belief that person challenged is not a legal voter.

Ten affidavits of freeholders of resident householders on knowledge that person challenged is a legal voter.

Ten affidavits when challenged for violating bribery laws.

Ten affidavits of voters challenged that he is registered.

Ten affidavits for arrest of illegal voter.

Ten affidavits when voters can not read or write English or physically unable to mark his ballot.

Eight memoranda of total votes cast for each candidate.

Two statements of expense of election board.

One paper bag for voted ballots.

One paper bag or envelope for unvoted ballots.

One paper bag for disputed ballots with seals for ballot package.

One paper bag or envelope for poll book and tally sheets.

One envelope of affidavits.

One stick of sealing wax.

One darning needle and thread.

Four blotters.

Three penholders.

Six steel pens.

PARALYSIS FATAL TO JAMES ONEAL

Father of Lieu and Sherman Oneal Dies at His Home South of Here.

WIDOW AND 4 SONS SURVIVE

James Oneal, Sr., father of Lieu and Sherman Oneal of this city, died this afternoon at 12:45 o'clock at the Oneal homestead southeast of the city. Death was due to paralysis. Eighteen weeks ago Mr. Oneal suffered a stroke and gradually grew weaker until death relieved his suffering.

Mr. Oneal was a life long resident of this county coming here with his parents from Kentucky when but three months old. He was seventy-six years old and was a well-known and highly respected man. He is survived by a widow and four children, Jesse, Bert, Sherman and Lieu. The funeral will be held at the late residence Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

What Really Happened

The condition of affairs during the panic '92 to '96 may best be shown by the following clipping from the Indianapolis News Jan. 11, 1894:

A meeting of the unemployed men was held in the criminal courtroom last night. After a long discussion it was resolved to accept work from the city at one dollar for eight hours until April 1.

The work, it was explained, was such as the city under ordinary circumstances would not furnish and could not pay for at this time without the contribution of the charitable. The work was to be distributed by turns, so as to give employment to as many as possible. A committee was to ask the county commissioners to see if stone piles can be established to furnish work.

Also the following:

Five thousand people are obtaining their food from the market, at a cost of 17 cents a week each. This expense has been going on since the first week in December. (News of Jan. 23, 1894.)

3 TOWNS PLAN FOR ELECTRIC LIGHTS

Milroy, Morristown and Lewisville Consider Propositions to Light Streets And Homes.

PUBLIC MEETINGS ARE HELD

Three towns along the border line of Rush county are laying plans to light their municipalities with electric lights. Milroy has an electric light plant under construction; Morristown has three propositions for lighting the city and furnishing electricity for home purposes; a Lewisville firm is considering the erection of an electric light plant there.

The newspapers in all three of the towns are advocating the installation of an electric light system. In each instance the owners want a contract from the town for lighting the streets so as to insure the success of their plants. Several public meetings have been held at Morristown. Shelbyville men propose to furnish electricity from Shelbyville for the town, the L. & C. offers to supply the place with electric current and still another man has a proposition which contemplates the use of L. & C. current.

WEATHER WILL BE DEMOCRATIC

Irl R. Hicks Says Regular Storm Period Will Not End Before November Fifth.

PREDICTIONS FOR MONTH

Preacher-Observer Forecasts First Snow of Season Will Fall About the Ninth.

The Rev. Irl R. Hicks reveals that the Democrats will have everything in their favor election day by his weather predictions for November. A regular storm period, which was first noticeable here the last day of October, is due, according to the Rev. Mr. Hicks, until after the election. His forecast for November is as follows:

Regular Storm Period is at its center on the 1st, beginning in October and reaching to November the 5th. The Moon is in perigee on the 3d and on the celestial equator on the 5th, and being thus nearest to us and on the equator, we may reasonably expect prompt and decided results. The barometer will show storm conditions by the 1st, in central parts of the country, on their eastward movements from western sections. The temperature will rise, the barometer will continue to fall, cloudiness will increase, and about the 3d, 4th and 5th, rain, wind and thunder storms will culminate during consecutive days, passing eastward to the Atlantic. Behind the storms the barometer will rise, winds will change to westward, with snow squalls and much colder weather.

A Reactionary Storm Period falling on the 6th, 7th and 8th, with new Moon on the 8th, threatening weather will continue over from the 5th, bringing a return of falling barometer, change to warmer and increasing storms of rain and wind on and touching the 8th and 9th. These storms will end in dashes of early snow and change to very much colder, about the 9th, 10th and 11th. From the 5th to the 11th, central on the 8th, general seismic unrest will be very natural and probable. We urge every reader to watch for all telegraphic reports of such phenomena, the world over; keep a record of dates on which earthquakes and storms are reported and prove to yourself and your friends whether or not these things happen in conformity to our theory and forecast.

A regular Storm Period involves the 11th to the 16th, being central on the 13th. At this period the moon will be at extreme south declination and atmospheric tides will flow from northerly directions, increasing the probability of cold rains and winds, added to snow and sleet over central to northern parts of the country. The Mercury and Venus periods will both be felt in the disturbances of this period, and to the end of the month. Storms of this period will culminate on the 13th, 14th, 15th and 16th—first to the west and thence progressively, day by day, to the eastward. High barometer and change to westerly winds and much colder will push the western flanks of the storm center, all the way to the Atlantic. One of the most important things to know, and keep in mind, is that rising temperature, falling barometer and fair weather precede storms, and rising barometer and colder, clearer weather will follow storms.

MAY MEAN NEW INDUSTRY HERE

If Local Men Could Sell Stock to Manufacture Corn Husking Machine.

WOULD TAKE BIG CAPITAL

Many Promoters Make Inquiries—Would Like to Have Chance.

Rushville may be the site of a great industry if the corn husking machine which has been invented and perfected by local men is manufactured here. There is a possibility that an effort may be made to sell stock in the concern, incorporate and erect a plant here.

That the invention is a success and that a corn husking machine is a much desired commodity is revealed by the fact that several manufacturers have already investigated and have expressed a desire to make a bid for the manufacture of it.

Agents for several concerns have conferred with the Rushville men who have perfected the patent with a view to manufacturing the husker. The men who have perfected the machine would much rather manufacture the machine themselves, but they realize that it would require a great outlay of capital, not only for erecting the plant and buying the machinery, but also to operate the factory until enough of the output had been placed on the market to place the business on a paying basis.

The fact, too, that there is a demand for this sort of a machine in only one season would combine to make a large capitalization necessary. No successful one has ever been placed on the market and there is every reason to believe that the machine perfected by the Rushville men would meet a popular demand.

The machine is the result of the inventive genius of Charles Younger of this city. He has been assisted in perfecting it by A. P. Walker and M. E. Newhouse. The machine was put to the acid test a few days ago, and the result was very gratifying to the men who have made it.

There are still a few minor changes to be made but no important mechanical defects are to be worked over. The machine is mounted on its own truck and can be drawn by two horses with ease. The gasoline motor on the machine operates the snapping and husking roles and elevators which carries the corn up and dumps it into the wagon which is drawn beside the machine.

MONDAY IS THE LAST DAY

Fall Installment of Taxes Must be Paid Then.

Politics has so absorbed public interest that some may forget, until too late, that the end of taxpaying time is drawing very near and will arrive next Monday evening. Still there are many who are not forgetting as the daily and hourly crowds at the treasurer's office for the past ten days attest. They are busy days for the county treasurer. The office is open every night from seven to nine o'clock so as to accommodate those who are busy all day.

PLOT ALLEGED IN KIGER CASE

Mother of Slain Man Introduces Evidence.

SAYS GANG SOUGHT HIS LIFE

The Recent Murder of Harry Kiger, a Terre Haute Politician, is Declared by His Mother to Have Been the Result of a Conspiracy on Part of Certain Persons Who Feared He Would "Peach" in Registration Cases.

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 2.—Mrs. Clementine Kiger, mother of Harry Kiger, who was killed by Frany Battle Ax Savage a few weeks ago, says she has evidence to support her charge that her son was killed because the gang thought he would turn state's evidence. Kiger had been a registration inspector, serving in a ward in which he did not live, and the gang thought he told tales "out of school." A short time before he was called out of a saloon and shot Kiger visited a newspaper office, and this was known to the gang.

Mrs. Kiger says her son told her Donn M. Roberts had berated him about another matter and that he had told Roberts he was "through doing dirty work for him." Mrs. Kiger says her son worked at night at home making out registration papers. She had twenty-five of them which her son had left in the house. Small cards had been made out containing names and addresses to fit with the registration applications. These cards had the number of voters listed at certain addresses. At one address the number was twenty. They averaged five to an address. An examination of the registration list showed these cards to be correct.

TO ENJOIN ROAD WORK

Man Files Petition Alleging Contract Is Not to Be Fulfilled.

Elkhart, Ind., Nov. 2.—A. H. Beardsley, a good roads enthusiast, has filed in the superior court a petition for an injunction to stop work on the five-mile macadam road on which one mile is nearly completed. His petition is based on the allegation that the advertisements and contract specify a fourteen-foot road. The commissioners instructed the contractors to build a nine-foot road.

A government expert declared the reduction in width was a mistake. The request to the commissioners to reduce the width to nine feet came from persons at a public meeting. The job was let for $29,900. The contractors are Kelleher, Miller & Irwin, of Frankfort. The commissioners, contractors, surveyors, county treasurer and auditor are made defendants.

Wants to Be Heard in Future.

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 2.—Adolph Melzer, who gave $1,000 that will, by compound interest, make Evansville worth $19,956,400.13 in 2162, will read his letter to Mayor Heilman into a phonograph, that his voice may be preserved and heard by the people living in Evansville two and one-half centuries from now. Fearing that the present contract may disintegrate and drop to pieces from age, Mr. Melzer will propose that the contract be examined every twenty-five years, and renewed if it shows evidence of wear.

Failure Made Him Despondent.

Danville, Ind., Nov. 2.—William W. West, formerly of Indianapolis, committed suicide here by taking carbolic acid. He had failed in business and despondency was the cause. West was forty-two years old and was a bachelor. Some months ago he sold his farm near Lizton and invested in a grocery store in Indianapolis and lost his money.

Shot During Political Quarrel.

Valparaiso, Ind., Nov. 2.—While the two men were talking politics here, H. Behrend of Chicago became so enraged that he shot Bracken Bain in the head. Bain, who is a New York drummer, will recover. Behrend is a Taft man, while Bain favored Roosevelt.

Driving Wolf Team Overland.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 2.—Riding in a buggy drawn by five wolves, Frank Yomer and Darius Young, both from Seattle, Wash., have left here for New York. They left Seattle on their trans-continental trip last May and expect to reach New York before winter.

State Making a Test.

Marion, Ind., Nov. 2.—William A. Thompson, a chiropractor of this city, is on trial in the circuit court on a charge of practicing medicine and surgery without a license. The case is to be made a test as to the right of chiropractors to practice in this state.

Made Death Doubly Sure.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Nov. 2.—A woman who committed suicide has been identified as Mrs. Edna Luckey of Elkhart, who came here a short time ago. She was a servant. She took morphine tablets and then turned on the gas.

A severe hurricane off the west coast of Mexico and Central America has wrought much damage.

AMUSEMENTS

The most sensational success on the English and American stage today is James Montgomery's comedy, "Ready Money." Its story reveals a remarkable knowledge of human nature and the invariable human weakness for following the band wagon.

"You don't have to have money to make it," argues Jackson Ives, counterfeiter. "All you have to do is to make people think you have it."

"Nothing succeeds like success," admits Stephen Baird, the hero, after he realizes the wisdom of the counterfeiter's words.

Before that happens, however, a very good deal of fun and real humor is developed out of Stephen Baird's misfortunes. All of his friends are prosperous, but he is in hard luck, with only a quarter in his pocket and his seemingly worthless mining property about to be taken from him in default of payment of a $20,000 note. It is New Year's Eve, a time for jollification. But not for Stephen. Several times he sees money in sight that evening, only to have it taken away from him, leaving him deeper in gloom than before. The final straw comes when his girl to whom he is engaged, starts to give him back the engagement ring, then relents and keeps the diamond herself, thereby depriving him of a final hope of realizing on something. At this juncture the counterfeiter steps into the story and then begins a series of dramatic and comedy situations that keep the audience in an alternate state of laughter and suspense until the final surprise is sprung.

"Ready Money" will be the attraction at the Shubert-Murphy Theatre, commencing Monday, November 4th. Wednesday and Saturday matinees. Election returns will be read from the stage Tuesday night.

A SURPRISE.

A basket social was held at the Big Flatrock Christian church Wednesday night, October 23. Just before summer it was announced, the church and Sunday school in appreciation of the services and personal work of Miss Lavinne Wagoner, organist, during the recent revival, would present her with an oak rocker and foot stool. Two young men of the "Loyal Sons" class made their way through the crowded aisle to the front with the chair. No one seemed to be surprised but Lavinne had her parents. "This being so unexpected I could not speak, so I wish in this way to express my grateful thanks to each and every one of the seventy-five donors for the beautiful oak rocker which I consider very precious and will always be evergreen in memory." LETTERS BEARING ON THE DYNAMITE CASES

Federal Jury Hearing Much Documentary Evidence.

Indianapolis, Nov. 2.—In the dynamite cases the district attorney began the presentation of letters to the jury, beginning with the ordering of the strike against the American Bridge company in 1905, when many letters passed between officers of the iron workers relative to the open shop policy of the company. There are about a thousand letters to be read to the grand jury.

Some of the letters showed that the union was having trouble in holding some of its members in line. A letter from George Hagerty of Phillipsburg, N. J., to McNamara, Dec. 11, 1905, said representatives of the employers were getting union men to tear up their union cards and go to work.

"If we don't put a stop to this gang, the chances are they will be 'open shops' says the Hagerty letter, referring to several big construction jobs about to begin. "I am requested to write to you," the letter continued, "and ask if you can do anything for a few good strong-arm men to go in here and clean things up."

"The reply of McNamara was that he had referred the situation to Ryan. He added: "If I can be of any assistance to you, I will let you know as soon as I hear from Ryan."

Fisher to Stick on the Job.

Washington, Nov. 2.—The secretary of the interior, Walter Fisher, will be the only member of the president's official family who will not have the privilege of voting for his chief in the coming election. Secretary Fisher, having been away over two months in Hawaii, was unable to register in his home city. The secretary will remain in Washington "on the lid" while the other cabinet officers are voting in their respective states.

Close Contest in Cuba.

Havana, Nov. 2.—The Cuban presidential election passed off quietly. There was no important disturbance anywhere. Both sides are claiming the victory.

HOW W. F. WATSON DEFEATED A. J. B.

Reply is Made to Attack on Former Congressman in the Shelbyville Republican.

OFFERED TO HELP IN 1910

But He Was Spurned by Beveridge and All of His Several Henchmen.

Some Progressive contributed an article to Tuesday's Shelbyville Republican headed "Watson Analyzed; Why He Stands Pat," in which article is found the following: "His remarks regarding Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Beveridge were the result of personal pique and spite. Two years ago Mr. Watson was given credit for assisting in the defeat of Mr. Beveridge."

The Shelbyville News says: Now the facts regarding this statement, according to Elmer Bassett, who was a member of the Republican State committee, are as follows: That Mr. Beveridge declared he was the "issue" in the campaign; and he further said that he did not need the help of Mr. Watson.

Mr. Watson, two years ago, through Mr. Bassett, tendered his (Watson's) services to the committee and offered to speak throughout the State for the Republican party. He promised that he would make Republican speeches; that he would defend the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill, and yet criticize some of its schedules; that he would not criticize Senator Beveridge for any speech he had made in the Senate or for any vote he had cast in the Senate; that he would ask the voters to support the entire Republican State and county candidates, and especially the candidates for the legislature. That the offer was refused by the committee; that the same offer was made to the executive committee and likewise refused, and that it was then made to Ed Lee, chairman of the committee, and to Mr. Springer, chairman of the speaker's bureau, and was, by them, refused.

Now the gentleman who wrote the article writes that Watson was given credit for assisting in the defeat of Beveridge. There is just one of two things about the statement that is true and that is that he does not know the facts or that he wilfully wishes to misrepresent the facts. We do not know the name of the author of this article but refer him to Mr. Bassett for the facts. Will he be so considerate as to investigate?

DURBIN'S DARE.

"I have asked you (Beveridge) the question. You will not answer it, I know, but I want to give you the second opportunity to do so: Where did the vast sum of $85,000 come from two years ago, an unheard of sum in an off year election in the state of Indiana? How much of it came from Mr. Perkins? Do not deceive the people, Mr. Beveridge; we are asking them to vote to use—let us be honest with them. I dared you to do it. I repeat the dare now. You have always claimed to be clean in politics; such a slush fund as you had two years ago, when you were the issue, does not corroborate your claims."—Col. W. T. Durbin.

MR. GRAY'S CONDITION.

Connorsville News: Congressman Finly H. Gray, who has been confined to his home on Seventh street for the last few days, is somewhat better. He has been severely ill, and is still unable to leave the house, but is sitting up and is mending. A severe cold and perhaps some attendant kidney trouble constituted his ailment.

HOW W. F. WATSON VOTE IN BALLOT BOX IS ONE THAT COUNTS

REPUBLICANS SHOULD BE CERTAIN TO GO TO THE POLLS NEXT TUESDAY.

GIVE OLD-TIME MAJORITY

Taft Can Be Elected If Every One Who Wants to See Him Elected Will Go to the Polls and Vote for Him.

If everybody who really wants Taft elected goes to the polls and votes for him he will be elected.

There is no doubt as to the truth of this statement. The country wants Taft and a continuance of Republican policies under Republican administration. The only reason there has ever been any doubt of Taft's election has been a sort of "feeling" that there was no show for him. Within the past two weeks that feeling has been rapidly giving way to a conviction that he could win and a wave of Republican enthusiasm has been sweeping over the country.

This change in sentiment has been due chiefly to two causes: First, the collapse of the Third Term party campaign; and, second, the realization that in a business way the country has absolutely nothing to gain, while there would be grave danger that it would suffer a return to the hard times which characterized the last Democratic administration.

In the first blush of enthusiasm for the new party a great many Republicans believed there was a chance for Mr. Roosevelt to win. But as the campaign has progressed that hope has been shown to be absolutely futile. It is a matter of common knowledge that Roosevelt has gained practically no adherents from the Democratic party. This leaves him dependent upon the votes of the Republicans and in order to win it will be necessary for him to get eight out of every ten votes in the country, basing the estimate upon the returns of 1908. Of course, everybody knows he cannot do that.

The only possible result of his candidacy, therefore, may be to endanger the election of Mr. Taft. And now with the certainty that either Mr. Taft or Mr. Wilson will be the next president every Republican is called upon to give his loyal support to the Republican ticket. In fact, everyone, regardless of party, who is satisfied with present business conditions and doubts the wisdom of a change should join to secure the re-election of President Taft and a Republican congress. This could not possibly result in detriment to the business of the country and it is equally certain that to return the Democratic party to power would bring about such disturbance. What is the sense in taking any chances?

Republicans everywhere should realize the absolute necessity of active work from now on until the polls close. Republicans in strong Republican precincts should especially appreciate the importance of making their vote as large as possible. The fact that they have a large majority in their own town or county should not be permitted to make them careless or indifferent about getting out their vote, for every vote counts in making up the state's total.

It should be remembered always that it is only the vote that goes into the ballot box that counts. Let every Republican bear in mind the fact that "if everybody who really wants Taft elected goes to the polls and votes for him he will be elected."

In parts of Norway the area of cultivated land might easily be quadrupled.

Danger of Democracy.

The tide is turning toward President Taft. The American people are realizing the danger which confronts them in the possibility of a Democratic party, in its platform, adopted at Baltimore, declares that the protective system is unconstitutional. VOTE AGAINST TAFT?

It is because you are dissatisfied, and don't know why you are dissatisfied. There is not the first reason for even a Democrat to be dissatisfied or even to vote against Taft.

If he is a merchant he has had four years of the best trade of his life under Taft's Administration; if a mechanic, he has the past four years received the best wages of his career; if a common laborer he has worked more hours and received more wages than ever before for the same work; if a real estate man he has had more calls for money than ever before; if a farmer, what are his troubles? He has had more demand for his product than at any time in the history of the farm. Many farmers, who six or eight years ago were renters, now own their farms and many more who have saved up a goodly sum and bought high priced land still are indebted and have mortgages on their farms and their homes. Are they ready to vote for a change for cheap labor and cheap land?

Four years as recorder of Rush county has put me in a position to know that more than fifty per cent of the farmers and laborers of this county are not ready for a return, to that old tariff-for-revenue-only. Didn't Mr. Ralston tell you in his great tariff speech what they would do? Hasn't every Democratic speaker told you so, and this time it might be a permanent thing if Gov. Marshall should see fit to so change the Constitution of the United States, as he sought to do the Constitution of Indiana; hasn't the price of hogs and cattle gone down the past week with a possible prospective chance of Wilson being elected. Ruin the farmer and the wheels of commerce stops!

How about the man in the factories of Rushville and elsewhere? How many days have you lost in the past four years because of your factory being closed for want of orders?

Before you vote against Taft next Tuesday, ask yourself how many days you are likely to be out of work in the next four years if Wilson is elected and free trade reigns. Our local Democrats say they won't, but their platform says they will. They are pledged to. Their boss says it has got to come, and he wrote the platform and nominated Mr. Wilson. Who? W. J. Bryan, chief of all old ideas that have brought disaster to us. Under those conditions what will become of those who are trying to get a home through the building associations? Ask yourselves the question Mr. voter?

Why only today a Democratic friend said to me: "I can't see what any Republican can have against Taft. His administration has been all that could be desired. Seventeen years ago I saw at one time 150 men standing and seated around the old court house square begging for work at 50c per day or any price they could get, many offering to work for their board. It is not so much the cost of high living today as the cost of living high.

And now one word to the old soldiers who marched under the shadow of that starry banner over a thousand bills, and shed his blood on a thousand fields of battle will you desert the party that kept every star in its place, and follow the teaching of a party that does not even refer to our flags in their platform, and has no banner to call its own.

Did Gen. Grant, when defeated for a third term, desert his party? Did he organize a third party? Old soldiers, wouldn't it be wise to follow the example set by that great warrior and statesman?

Forty years ago, coffee in the green was 20 and 30 cents; old brown sugar 8 1/3, white sugar, 10 and 12 1/2, coal oil 30 and 40c. per gallon and John D. didn't have a corner on it either.

It has been said that revenge is sweet, but Oh! how bitter the results!

Last Saturday, Has Disappeared
From His Home.

NO REASON CAN BE FOUND

According to a story published in the Indianapolis Sun, Charles Eck of that city has disappeared and his whereabouts is a mystery to his family. Eck was a farmer and lived near St. Paul, until a few months ago when he went to Indianapolis and engaged in erecting two or three houses.

The man who is alleged to have disappeared was in St. Paul last Saturday and was in communication with several men. To them he did not divulge any intentions to leave his family and the story comes as somewhat of a mystery. Eck is about 45 years of age and is a son of the late George Eck. He has a wife and several children.

LEAGUE INDORSES GOV. W. T. DURBIN

Says Republican Candidate Has Been
A Consistent Champion of
County Local Option.

REVIEWS CANDIDATES' ACTS

Condemns Beveridge For His Stand
on Question in Recent Campaigns.

The Indiana Anti-Saloon League has officially indorsed W. T. Durbin, Republican nominee for Governor; Thos. T. Moore, Republican nominee for Lieutenant Governor, and Clifford Jackman, Progressive nominee for attorney-general.

The indorsement is made in the American Issue, the official organ of the Anti-Saloon League, in the publication of October 29. The Issue says:

"Friends and supporters of the Indiana Anti-Saloon League, particularly Issue readers, have a right to expect the league to give them trustworthy information for their guidance in the coming election. This the league proposes faithfully and fearlessly to do, although such recommendations may be misunderstood and misrepresented by others, and in spite of the fact that our enemies will insist that the league is partisan, which is untrue.

"The league indorses or opposes candidates only, and the one issue on which the league bases its recommendations, when made, is the temperance question. With the attitude of candidates upon other issues the league has nothing whatever to do.

"In making recommendations for candidates for state offices the league does not recommend any candidate because he belongs to a certain political party, nor does the league oppose any candidate because he belongs to another party."

In summing up its recommendations of the various candidates for Governor, Lieutenant-Governor and attorney-general, the Issue says:

"Samuel M. Ralston, Democrat, is running on the brewery-trust-made platform of his party, therefore is not acceptable to temperance people. "W. T. Durbin, Republican, defended county option on the stump four years ago, publicly deplored its omission from his party platform two years ago, was one of the first leaders of his party to declare in its favor this year, and in his keynote speech made an admirable argument in its favor, as a matter of principle and conviction. And he has in other ways shown his interest in the temperance cause. People who know him best say his promises are always kept.

"Although running on a party platform which has a county option plank in it, yet in all frankness we must say that Albert J. Beveridge, Progressive, did not defend county option on the stump four years ago, that he must be held responsible for its omission from his party platform two years ago and for failure, after its omission, to defend it on the stump during that campaign, and that he has not defended it specifically in the present campaign, and, to put it in the most charitable form, has apparently been without convictions on this question.

"Therefore, the league recommends Durbin as being preferable to Albert J. Beveridge.

"William J. O'Neil, Democratic nominee for Lieutenant-Governor, has been a brewery attorney and is a pronounced 'wet.'

"Frederick Landis, Progressive, has never, prior to this campaign, taken much, if any, interest in the temperance cause.

"Thomas T. Moore, Republican, is the author of the Moore remonstrance law, also of two other good temperance laws. Furthermore, as a state senator he voted for the 'blind tiger' and county option laws, supporting them with all his influence.

"Accordingly, the league recommends Mr. Moore for Lieutenant-Governor.

"Thomas Honan, Democrat, present attorney-general, was a member of the legislature in 1907 and usually voted with the liquor element. As a leader of the minority in the house in the 1908 special session, he led in the fight against the enactment of the county option law.

"H. Wurzer, Republican, has been a brewery attorney and a pronounced 'liberal' on the liquor question.

"Clifford Jackman, Progressive, is a pronounced 'dry.' He has for years been a leader of the temperance forces in Huntington county, and the league earnestly recommends him for attorney general."

RALLY FOR MONDAY NIGHT

Republicans of Knightstown to Close
Campaign With a Flourish.

The Republicans of Knightstown and Wayne township will close the campaign in Knightstown on Monday night, when ex-Governor W. T. Durbin, of Anderson, now a candidate for re-election to that office and ex-attorney General James Bingham, of Indianapolis will speak at the Alhambra opera house. These two gentlemen are among the most important speakers in this campaign and will present the issues of the day in a clear and forcible manner. There will be plenty of good music by bands and glee clubs. A general invitation is extended to everybody.

THIS IS COLDEST DAY.

THE ROOT OF EVIL

BY THOMAS DIXON

Copyright, 1911, by Thomas Dixon

"Yes—Miss Nan. You see, they think the world of you. She said you grew up together in the same town. I was telling her about my business. I must have been bragging about what we were going to do. I was crazy, just looking at her. Her beauty made me drunk. I told her we needed a new attorney. She said you were the man. I told her I'd offer you the place. She seemed pleased. Said she knew you would accept. You've got to accept, old man. I want to make her feel that her word is law with me. Tell me, do you think I've got a chance with a girl like that? You know I've never gone with girls much. I'm timid and awkward. I don't know what to do or what to say. But my money will help, won't it?"

"Money always helps in this town, Cal."

"And it means so much to a woman, too, don't it?"

"Yes. Have you said anything to Miss Nan yet?"

"Lord, no! Haven't dared. I'm kinder shying up to the old lady to get her on my side. She seems awfully friendly. I think she likes me. Don't you think it a good plan to cultivate her?"

"By all means," was the dry reply. "Say, Jim, help me. Take this attorneyship. It will please her and I'll make you rich. Come in with me and you'll never regret it. I know my folks were not your social equals in the old days down south. But you know as well as I do that money talks here."

There was no mistaking the genuineness of Bivens' feelings. Stuart had but to accept the generous offer made in good faith, and every cloud between him and Nan would vanish. They could be married at once and the future was secure. All he had to do was to keep silent for the moment as to his real relations to Nan and compromise his sense of honor by accepting the wages of a man whose principles he despised. His decision was made without a moment's hesitation.

"I refuse the offer, Cal," he said firmly.

Bivens rose quickly and placed his smooth hand on his friend's.

"I won't take that answer now. Think it over. I'll see you again."

He turned and left the room before Stuart could reply.

The lawyer drew a photograph from his desk and looked at it, smiling tenderly.

"I wonder, Nan! I wonder!"

The smile slowly faded, and a frown clouded his brow. The lines of his mouth suddenly tightened.

"I'll settle it today," he said with decision, as he rose, took his hat and left for Gramercy park.

It was noon when Stuart reached the Primrose house, and Nan was again out. He received the announcement from her mother with a feeling of rage he could ill conceal.

me so last night? You accepted his offer?"

"I'm sorry to disappoint you, dear, but I did not."

The girl dropped into her seat, with a sigh, while he went on:

"Bivens further confided in me the fact that he is hopelessly and desperately in love with you."

A flash of anger mantled Nan's cheeks.

"That will do, Jim," she said in quiet cold tones. "Your joke has gone far enough."

"Joke! Do you think I could joke on such a subject?"

A smile began to play about the corners of the full lips.

"I never dreamed he was so easy."

Still smiling dreamily Nan crossed her hands over her knees and studied the pattern in the rug, ignoring the presence of her lover.

"Let's not joke, Nan. It's too serious."

"Serious! I fall to see it."

"Can't you see that we must at once announce our engagement?"

The girl's lips curled with the faintest suggestion of sarcasm.

"I don't see it at all. You may be a good lawyer, but I fail to follow your logic."

Stuart rose, with a gesture of anger.

"Come to the point, Nan. Let's not beat the devil around the stump any longer. You know as well as I do that you've been trying to flirt with this little insect. You know in your heart of hearts you despise Bivens."

"On the contrary, I vastly admire him. The man who can enter with his handicap this big, heartless city and successfully smash the giants who oppose him is not an insect. I'd rather call him a hero. All women admire success."

"It's disgusting!"

Nan fixed her dark eyes on Stuart.

"How dare you use such a word to me?"

"Because it's true, and you know it."

"True or false, you can't say it"—she rose deliberately—"you may go now."

"Forgive me, dear," Stuart stammered in a queer, muffled voice. "I didn't mean to hurt you. I was mad with jealousy."

"You may go," was the hard, even answer.

"I can't go like this, dearest," he pleaded. "You must forgive me—you must! Look at me!"

She turned slowly, stared him full in the face for a moment without the quiver of an eyelid, her fine figure tense, erect, cold, as she quietly said:

"You are tiring me, Jim."

For the first time he saw a cold blooded calculation behind her beautiful eyes and felt it in the smile which showed the white teeth—the smile of a woman who would pause at nothing to get what she wanted.

A blush of shame tinged his face as he tremblingly said:

"Please, dear, let's not part like this! I've suffered enough today. You're only teasing me. And I've acted like a fool. Say that you forgive me!"

"Our engagement is at an end, Mr. Stuart," was the quiet answer.

"Nan—"

Before he could recover from the shock or utter a protest she opened the door and he had passed out into the night.

To be continued.

TAFT'S ADMINISTRATION HAS INCREASED IMMENSELY THE WAGES OF POSTAL EMPLOYEES.

PERSONAL WELFARE HELPED

The Increase for Employees Is Another Splendid Achievement of President Taft—One Day's Rest in Seven Afforded to Postal Workers.

More than $20,000,000 have been expended during President Taft's administration in increasing the wages of 100,000 postal employees. Another $2,000,000 will be added to the salaries of the 17,000 railway mail clerks as a result of the reclassification of the railway mail service now in progress, an administration measure, provided for in the appropriation act for the current fiscal year. More money has been given in the promotion of the welfare of postal employees under the Taft administration than under any former administration, extending over for or even eight years. Not only have postal employees reaped the benefit, but the public as well, since the postal service is on a self-sustaining basis for the first time in 28 years.

It is true that the enormous postal deficit of $17,500,000 with which the administration was confronted at its beginning has been wiped out, but in the face of these figures the criticism so often made that this result was accomplished at the expense of the employees is absurd. That this increased efficiency of the employees has been an important factor in putting the postal service on a self-sustaining basis is unquestionably true, but no one can deny that this increase in efficiency is due to better wages, shorter hours, an impartial system of rating efficiency, on which all promotions are based, and better methods for safeguarding the rights of employees. The only possible conclusion that can be drawn from a comparison of the separations from the service from all causes during the present administration with the number that occurred under former administrations is that the employees are better treated, better disciplined, more efficient, and therefore more contented.

As an illustration, the annual report of 1906 shows that out of 20,000 clerks, 2,340, or 12 per cent., voluntarily left the service in that year. Last year the voluntary separations from the service amounted to about 5 per cent. Out of a total force of 29,000 city letter carriers, 199 were removed from the service last year, or less than 7-10 of 1 per cent. In 1894 the annual report shows that out of a total force of 11,736 city carriers more than 400 were removed, or about 4 per cent. of the total number.

During the present administration, for the first time in the history of the department, the principle of allowing one day's rest in seven to the classified employees of the postal service has been recognized, and during the last two years practically every post-office clerk and city letter carrier has been granted a complete day of rest on Sunday or compensatory time during the week equal to the Sunday service. This was not done in the interest of economy, since it has added many thousands of dollars to the expense of the department. It was done solely in the interest of the men and women of the service. Congress recognized the justice of this principle at its last session by enacting a law limiting the delivery of mail on Sunday.

The administration has consistently recommended to congress the advisability of extending the annual leave period of clerks and carriers from 15 to 30 days, notwithstanding that the most conservative estimate of the cost of such extension is $1,000,000 annually. The president in his message to congress has repeatedly urged the importance, not only in the interest of humanity, of a fair and just system of retiring the veterans of the service on a pension when overtaken by the infirmities of old age.

President Taft issued an order in September, 1910, taking the position of assistant postmaster at first and second class offices out of the accepted class and placing it in the competitive classified service, thus creating an additional incentive for faithful and efficient service on the part of postoffice clerks, city letter carriers and railway mail clerks. Since the order was issued promotions to the position of assistant postmaster have been made from each of these classes of employees. Another order issued by President Taft amended the so-called "gag rule," which was promulgated by President Roosevelt, by affirming the right of classified employees to petition congress for redress of grievances.

In the postoffice department merit and fitness alone have been the sole factors in the selection of officers and employees. Not a single appointment has been made for political considerations and every vacancy has been filled by the promotion of a classified employee from some branch of the service. In the organization of the postal savings system, the establishment of which was ardently supported by the president, the officers and employees were selected from the classified postal service. This will also be true of the new parcel post system which becomes operative January 1st next.

As a still further incentive to faithful endeavor and in the interests of the public the president has urged upon congress the desirability of taking the entire postal service out of politics by amending the civil service law so as to provide for the appointment of postmasters of all classes through the competitive merit system. The enactment of such legislation would open the doors to the classified employees. Experts trained by long years of experience in every branch of the service would become the heads of our large postoffices.

President Taft has stood like a bulwark between the employees of the merit system and the spoilsmen in congress, twice vetoing the act of congress making appropriations for the executive and legislative branches of the government which contained a provision for limiting the tenure of office of classified employees—a measure that would wreck the merit system.

TAFT AND THE TRUSTS

RECORD OF HIS ADMINISTRATION SHOWS THAT THE LAW WAS ENFORCED.

WITHOUT FEAR OR FAVOR

President Taft Did Not Listen to Personal Appeals from Trust Magnates and Then Protect Them From Prosecution.

During the seven and one-half years of the Roosevelt administration 44 proceedings were brought under the anti-trust law—18 civil suits, 25 criminal indictments and 1 proceeding by seizure of property. Sixteen of these proceedings were still pending when the Roosevelt administration closed.

During the three years of the Taft administration the left over cases were disposed of and 62 proceedings—22 civil suits and 40 criminal indictments—initiated, all but 16 of which have been concluded.

When the department of justice, under the Roosevelt administration, was about to begin an action to dissolve the Harvester Trust, Geo. W. Perkins made a personal appeal to the president and the suit was not brought, the reason given by Mr. Roosevelt in a letter being that it would "antagonize powerful interests that are friendly to the administration." The attitude of Mr. Perkins since that time shows that the "powerful interests" were not antagonized.

One of the actions brought under the Taft administration involved Mr. Dan Hanna. Word came to the president that if the action could be dismissed his chances of carrying the Ohio primaries would be much enhanced. The action was not dismissed. Mr. Hanna paid his fine—and the evidence shows that he contributed $177,000 to the Roosevelt primary campaign fund, while his three newspapers have been bitter and unsparring in their attacks upon Taft.

In 1904 J. P. Morgan, H. C. Frick, H. H. Rogers, E. H. Harriman, G. W. Perkins, C. M. Depew and George Gould, all of them trust magnates, contributed each $100,000 or more to Mr. Roosevelt's campaign fund. Two of them are dead, but of the five living not one is helping to pay the expenses of the Taft campaign this year.

President Taft's rigid enforcement of the anti-trust law has not only shut the purses of the big interests against him, but has brought upon him the active antagonism of the men who control them. Ought it not to bring to him the support of the plain people who want the law enforced?

And in the light of the record what unpardonable misrepresentation, what gross slander it is, to charge that President Taft has "gone over to the interests." Did he go over to the interests when he enjoined the railroads from advancing freight rates all over the country, saving shippers scores of million of dollars? Did he go over to the interests when he forced the corporation tax provision into the tariff law from which the government is now receiving $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 annually? Did he go over to the interests when he instigated a suit to dissolve the combination between the Steel Trust and the Tennessee Coal and Iron company which his predecessor had expressly authorized and which had paid the promised $100,000,000? Did he go over to the interests when he instituted more suits under the anti-trust law in three years than his predecessor had done in seven and one-half years?

Isn't it nearly time we were giving a square deal to that square man who sits in the white house? Just because he has refused to advertise himself, just because he has not had trumpets sounded before him whenever he did something for the people, shall we let his enemies destroy him, the enemies he has made because he was standing by our interests instead of doing the bidding of those whose interests were not ours?

EITHER TAFT OR WILSON

will be elected president of the United States next Tuesday. Roosevelt cannot possibly win.

And if you vote for Roosevelt you help to make Woodrow Wilson, college professor, free trader and theorist in governmental affairs, the next president.

Wisdom and patriotism demand that you vote the Republican ticket.

MABEL BARRISON

Talented Actress Dead at Toronto After Long Illness.

Toronto, Nov. 2.—Miss Mabel Barrison, the Toronto actress, who won fame by her work in musical comedy and farce, died of consumption at 8 o'clock last night after a long illness. She returned to Toronto last summer accompanied by her husband, Joseph Howard, the actor and song writer, and has since been living with her aunt.

STRANGE STORY TOLD BY PARIS NEWSPAPER

Nothing More Striking in the Files of Fiction.

Paris, Nov. 2.—The authenticity of this story, which reads more like the first chapter of a detective thriller than a statement of facts, is vouched for by Gil Blas. It concerns an American mother and her daughter, whose names the Gil Blas has not been allowed to give, but the paper asserts that they are well known members of society.

The story refers to the daughter, formerly Miss L., but now Mrs. W. The mother and the daughter arrived in Paris from the extreme west late at night on the eve of the opening of the 1900 Paris exposition. They went to a large hotel. The daughter in the morning knocked at her mother's door. She received no reply and made inquiries of the chambermaid as to her mother's whereabouts. The chambermaid insisted that the daughter arrived at the hotel alone, and the entire hotel staff made similar assertions. The daughter, who was almost distracted, made appeals to the American embassy and the police to search for her mother, but her efforts were without effect.

The daughter, heartbroken, then returned to America. She was visiting Biarritz a week ago, and now says that while there she overheard three men who were seated in the hotel salon discussing the mysteries of the great capital. One of them told a story which she recognized as her own. The speaker described the sudden death of an American woman in a Paris hotel at 2 o'clock in the morning. The doctors diagnosed the case as plague. As the publicity of the case on the eve of the opening of the exposition meant a catastrophe, the minister of police to seize the woman's baggage, burn it with the body, disinfect the room and bind all the hotel servants who had seen the woman to deny her existence.

The daughter of the woman says she has not been able to get confirmation of the story, but is determined to make a thorough investigation before she returns to America.

GRANADA GRATEFUL

Its Women Convey Warm Tribute to Admiral Southerland.

Washington, Nov. 2.—A grateful tribute to Admiral W. H. Southerland and the American forces in Nicaragua tendered the American commander in chief by the women of Granada, has been made public at the state department. The women wrote the admiral a letter expressing their gratitude to him and his men for having relieved the inhabitants of the city of Granada from frightful menace from the rebels, and accompanied the letter with a bouquet of flowers from their own home gardens. After reciting the fact that recurring conflicts in Nicaragua have brought sadness to the country, the letter declares:

"On account of the shortness of your stay in this city we are not able to express to you personally our gratitude and profound esteem, so we send you a bouquet of flowers from our gardens, which in their perfume carry for you and your great and generous country the tenderest feelings of the women of Granada."

Balloon Has Not Been Heard From. Berlin, Nov. 2.—The balloon Dueseldorf, with John Watts and A. T. Atherholt, two American aeronauts on board, has not yet reported. The complete absence of news in regard to its movements since the balloon started on Sunday last from Stuttgart in the race for the international balloon trophy is causing much uneasiness.

EUROPE DUBIOUS OVER OUTCOME

Chancellories Amazed at the Success of Allies.

PEACE OF EUROPE MENAGED

Grave Discussions Are Being Held in Contemplation of the Questions That Inevitably Would Arise Following the Imminent Fall of Constantinople—In the Meantime the Allies Are Pushing Their Moslem Foes Hard.

London, Nov. 2.—Hanging over the Oriental railroad at Tchataldja is smoke from Bulgarian cannon. Twenty-five miles down the valley through which that railroad twists are the minarets of Constantinople.

Far behind to the northwest of the victorious Bulgarians their artillery is hammering at the fort of Adrianople, and to the southwest of the besieged city the Bulgarian troops are tramping through the streets of Demotika.

Somewhere between Adrianople and the Ottoman capital along the line of the torn-up railroad, is what is left of the army of Nazim Pasha, if that Turkish commander and war minister is not already captured. He or his representatives, send word to Constantinople that the right wing of his army at Viza, on a line with Adrianople to the east, is marching north with their backs to the Black sea. Mukhtar Pasha, say these reports, has defeated a Bulgarian column and many guns and much ammunition has fallen into his hands. The Turks say they have captured the important town of Bunarhissar, near Kirk-Killsish.

Earlier dispatches from Ottoman sources say that the Bulgars are being hemmed in on four sides.

At Adrianople the Bulgarians offered to let all the civilians leave the town and this offer was refused by the Turkish commander, who said that it could only be accepted if the garrison were allowed to go also.

A well-informed correspondent sends this about the fighting: "Bulgarian siege batteries posted at Kadukiel and on the heights began Wednesday the bombardment of the Turkish works at Schietantoka, Karagorztajba and Hadirliktabja, belonging to a group on the northwest front of Adrianople. They are among the strongest forts. They are of modern construction, are well armed and have bomb-proof shelters. Their capture would bring about the fall of Adrianople."

"The bombardment lasted eight hours and was then resumed after an hour's interval. The effect of the Bulgarian guns was to draw a considerable reply from the Turkish guns which was ineffective. Meanwhile the Bulgarian infantry advanced to attack Marash and Karagoah. The Turkish garrison have made numerous sorties on this front, and there is a fearful battle. It is raging with varying success at the bridge over the Maritza river at Marash. The Turks have displayed extraordinary stubbornness and have brought up fresh forces."

"This is the most sanguinary battle the Bulgarians have had before Adrianople. They are displaying an admirable contempt for death. This is especially so in the case of the reserves who are under fire for the first time. Now that the Turkish main army is as good as destroyed it is probable that the investment corps before Adrianople will be strengthened and the assault on the fortress continued with increased energy."

Word comes from the Greeks that one of their torpedo boats blew up a Turkish cruiser in the Gulf of Salonika, killing many of the crew.

The Montenegrin attack on Scutari that has been marked by such stubborn fighting on both sides, seems to have suffered a serious check.

The Serbians are sending fresh levies into those parts of Macedonia that have fallen to their arms, and are busy with the governing of that province. Many of the Arnaut tribesmen are coming over to the Serbs.

In the meantime in the chancellories of Europe the success of the allies is looked on with amazement, and in some quarters with chagrin. Should the Turkish capital fall there will immediately arise questions pregnant with danger to the peace of Europe. Austria's intervention and the immediate response of Russia are two things that caused a long conference at Paris between M. Poincare and the representatives of the powers. The proposal on his part for the powers to mediate between Turkey and the allies is vague and apparently aims to have the powers look on without seeking compensation while the allies split. The Bulgars say they won't stand interference, and that if Turkey wants to talk peace she must come to Sofia rather than Paris.

Called Off Big Parade.

New York, Nov. 2.—The parade in which, according to National Chairman McCombs, 77,000 men were to march up Fifth avenue this afternoon and be reviewed by Governor Wilson, was called off yesterday after Governor Wilson, in Rochester, had sent the following telegram to Mr. McCombs: "Hope that arrangements for parade in New York will be cancelled as evidence of our deep sympathy with the family and friends of the late vice president."

FUNERAL OF SHERMAN HELD THIS AFTERNOON

Last Rites at Bier of the Late Vice President.

Utica, N. Y., Nov. 2.—All joining in the sorrow of the people of this city, the president of the United States, many members of congress and representatives of the various departments of the government, attended the funeral of the late Vice President James S. Sherman, which was held here this afternoon.

Services were conducted in the First Presbyterian church, this edifice having been selected for the occasion because the Dutch Reformed church, of which Mr. Sherman was a member, was regarded as too small to accommodate the crowd.

Yesterday afternoon the body of Vice President Sherman was borne in solemn procession to the Onondaga county courthouse, and from 3 o'clock until 9 o'clock last night lay in state on a catafalque in the rotunda of the building. A detail of fifty soldiers from the Utica national guard company acted as a military guard during the lying in state. It was estimated that during the six hours the body lay in state, fully 40,000 persons passed the bier for a last view of the features of their neighbor, "Jim" Sherman. The body then was borne back to the Sherman residence. There it was kept sacred in the privacy of the family until the hour of the funeral this afternoon. Only relatives and intimate friends of Mr. Sherman were privileged to view the remains at the home.

LAYS THE BLAME ON HER HUSBAND

Lillian Conway Tells of Sophia Singer's Death.

ROBBERY WAS THE MOTIVE

Chicago Actress, Arrested With Her Husband After Flight Following the Murder of Their Friend, Confesses to the Police That Conway Killed the Girl in Their Apartments, but Says Murder Was Not Planned.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Lillian Conway-Ryall, sometimes called the "queen of burlesque," broke down under the rapid fire of questions by detectives and confessed that her husband, Charles Conway, formerly of Muncie, Ind., murdered Miss Sophie G. Singer of Baltimore last Monday night in a boarding house in Indiana avenue. Robbery was the motive. But murder was not intended. The "wooden-footed clown" of circus fame merely intended to stun the girl, that she could raise no outcry while Mrs. Conway and her husband made their escape, the woman told the police. That his wife has confessed has not been told to Conway, who is being kept in solitary confinement at the Stanton avenue police station.

Mrs. Conway told the police that she was not an actual witness to the slaying, but told of hearing a scuffle between her husband and Miss Singer, and seeing Miss Singer's body on the bed in the Conway bedroom just before they fled. She says her husband told her at that time that the girl was merely unconscious, and that they would better flee before she regained her senses.

In her statement she says: "Sophie and Conway got into a quarrel in Conway's bedroom. I left the bedroom and went into the dining room. Sophie was in her stocking feet and had her shoes in her hand. She came in the room and sat on the bed to put on her shoes. In the meantime I had left the room. I was out of the room three minutes. When I returned I saw Sophie lying on the bed. My husband said: 'We'd better leave here; she's unconscious.'"

The woman said the handkerchief found around Miss Singer's neck was Conway's. "He hit Sophie on the head with a billy made of a doorknob," she said.

Mrs. Conway said that while she knew her husband had no money before the murder happened, he had $35 after they left the house by a rear stairway and fled.

Brought to Chicago from Lima, O., where they were arrested, Conway and his wife were taken first to detective headquarters and then to the Stanton Avenue police station.

A dramatic scene in which William Warthen, who was to have married Miss Singer last Tuesday, and Mrs. Conway were the principals, followed the confession. The woman pleaded with Warthen for forgiveness, the police say, and begged him to kiss her, which he refused to do. Both were much affected.

NOT TALKING

President Declines to Discuss Question of Sherman's Successor.

New York, Nov. 2.—President Taft will reach here tonight, following the funeral of Vice President Sherman at Utica, for a final political conference. The president then will proceed to Cincinnati to cast his ballot and there await news of the national election results.

With the sudden death of the vice president came practically the termination of the president's campaign. The president had expected to make a few more political speeches, particularly from the rear platform of the train on his way to Ohio, but since the death of Mr. Sherman he will not do so.

The president will leave New York late Sunday so as to spend practically the entire day Monday travelling through his native state from the northeast to the southwest corners, but he will not make political talks if it can be avoided. At places where there are large crowds and there may appear to be a demand, he may pay a tribute to the late vice president and make a brief and earnest appeal. The president made it known that he would not discuss the matter of a successor to the late vice president as his running mate until after the funeral services. The subject may be discussed in the conference here tomorrow.

BIG DELEGATION FROM SHELBYVILLE

Special Train Will Haul Load of Enthusiastic Republicans For Tonight's Rally.

WILL BE BIG G. O. P. JUBILEE

The grand closing Republican rally in this section, the one that is expected to surpass all others in magnitude, enthusiasm, if possible, and attendance, is the one to be held at Rushville Saturday night, when it is expected thousands will be there to help make the event one of the real old-time soul-stirring Republican affairs, says the Shelbyville News.

The city band under the direction of Prof. Marvin Hill has been engaged to furnish music for the big delegation that will attend the Rushville meeting from this county. A number of Republicans from this city and county will go to Rushville, leaving over the 6:11 J. M. & I. passenger train and returning by a special train which has been chartered for the occasion. It is not known yet how many will go but many have already signified their intentions of making the trip and it is thought that there will be several hundred at the station awaiting the train when it pulls in Saturday evening.

Rushville's own distinguished citizen, James E. Watson, will be the principal speaker of the evening. Besides the music, enthusiasm, and cheering there will be fire works and a big parade, and everything will be done to make the evening the time of a great G. O. P. jubilee.

Yesterday morning the rural mail carriers began leaving the postoffice to go over their routes at seven o'clock. During the six summer months they leave at six-thirty o'clock.

ONE OF MULES WAS KILLED

John Billings once wrote that "you never heard anybody say dead mule!" But then many things occur in these days that were unknown to this wise philosopher of the past generation.

Last evening, about 6:30, as E. Winslow was crossing the track of the T. H. I. & E. interurban line at Stop 100 near Lewisville, he "got stuck" and a fatality resulted shortly thereafter. Mr. Winslow's wagon was loaded with baled straw, and he worked and worried for several minutes to pull out, but without avail.

Finally, looking to the east, Mr. Winslow saw the headlight of a car rapidly approaching. He ran a few feet toward the car, waving his arms in a frantic effort to attract attention of the motorman. But Winslow was too late. The car struck his wagon near the forward part, killing one of the mules, damaging the wagon, breaking the front of the traction car, and causing slight injury to the motorman, who was cut by broken glass.

Work began Thursday upon the erection of the Tabernacle on East High street for the Biederwolf meetings, says the Hamilton Republican News. The work is advancing nicely and it is expected that by night fall today the work of framing the structure will be well advanced. Don Cochran, who gives his time to the speciality of erecting large buildings for union revivals is directing the work. The men of Hamilton whether members of the church or not are asked to volunteer their services for this work. At least fifty men should report tomorrow.

THEY HAD AN ARM LOAD OF SUPPLIES

Inspectors Got Ballots And Other Stationary For Election at Court House Today.

EACH ONE IS GIVEN ENOUGH

Number is Based on Number of Registered Voters And Not on Last Vote.

The inspectors from the thirty-one precincts came into the clerk's office today and received their supplies for the election next Tuesday. The county ballots were printed early this week and tied up in packages for each inspector, according to the vote which had been registered in the precinct. The registered vote, rather than the vote for the last election, is the basis for counting ballots now.

Each inspector received a few more than two ballots for every registered voter in his precinct. The State ballots, on which there are more than a dozen errors, are not so numerous. Each inspector was given a letter of instruction to give to the clerks so no mistake will be made in counting the vote from the State ballots, as there are a number of errors on them.

The following is the list of what each inspector took away with him.

Two State and county ballots for every registered voter in his precinct and twenty-five per cent. additional as required by law.

Blue pencils.

Two poll books.

Two tally papers, national and state.

Two tally papers, local.

Two election laws.

Two oaths of inspectors.

Four oaths of judges.

Four oaths of clerk.

Four oaths disqualifying judge of election board.

Eight additional oaths of members of election board.

Four appointments and oaths of election sheriffs.

Ten voters' affidavits on general challenge.

Ten affidavits of electors of information and belief that person challenged is not a legal voter.

Ten affidavits of freeholders of resident householders on knowledge that person challenged is a legal voter.

Ten affidavits when challenged for violating bribery laws.

Ten affidavits of voters challenged that he is registered.

Ten affidavits for arrest of illegal voter.

Ten affidavits when voters can not read or write English or physically unable to mark his ballot.

Eight memoranda of total votes cast for each candidate.

Two statements of expense of election board.

One paper bag for voted ballots.

One paper bag or envelope for unvoted ballots.

One paper bag for disputed ballots with seals for ballot package.

One paper bag or envelope for poll book and tally sheets.

One envelope of affidavits.

PARALYSIS FATAL TO JAMES ONEAL

Father of Lien and Sherman Oneal Dies at His Home South of Here.

WIDOW AND 4 SONS SURVIVE

James Oneal, Sr., father of Lien and Sherman Oneal of this city, died this afternoon at 12:45 o'clock at the Oneal home-land southeast of the city. Death was due to paralysis. Eighteen weeks ago Mr. Oneal suffered a stroke and gradually grew weaker until death relieved his suffering.

Mr. Oneal was a life long resident of this county coming here with his parents from Kentucky when but three months old. He was seventy-six years old and was a well-known and highly respected man. He is survived by a widow and four children, Jesse, Bert, Sherman and Lien. The funeral will be held at the late residence Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

What Really Happened

The condition of affairs during the panic '92 to '96 may best be shown by the following clipping from the Indianapolis News Jan. 11, 1894:

A meeting of the unemployed men was held in the criminal courtroom last night. After a long discussion it was resolved to accept work from the city at one dollar for eight hours until April 1.

The work, it was explained, was such as the city under ordinary circumstances would not furnish and could not pay for at this time without the contribution of the charitable. The work was to be distributed by turns, so as to give employment to as many as possible. A committee was to ask the county commissioners to see if stone piles can be established to furnish work.

Also the following:

Five thousand people are obtaining their food from the market, at a cost of 17 cents a week each. This expense has been going on since the first week in December. (News of Jan. 23, 1894.)

3 TOWNS PLAN FOR ELECTRIC LIGHTS

Milroy, Morristown and Lewisville Consider Propositions to Light Streets And Homes.

PUBLIC MEETINGS ARE HELD

Three towns along the border line of Rush county are laying plans to light their municipalities with electric lights. Milroy has an electric light plant under construction; Morristown has three propositions for lighting the city and furnishing electricity for home purposes; a Lewisville firm is considering the erection of an electric light plant there.

The newspapers in all three of the towns are advocating the installation of an electric light system. In each instance the owners want a contract from the town for lighting the streets so as to insure the success of their plants. Several public meetings have been held at Morristown. Shelbyville men propose to furnish electricity from Shelbyville for the town, the I. & C. offers to supply the place with electric current and still another man has a proposition which contemplates the use of I. & C. current.

WEATHER WILL BE DEMOCRATIC

Irl R. Hicks Says Regular Storm Period Will Not End Before November Fifth.

PREDICTIONS FOR MONTH

Preacher-Observer Forecasts First Snow of Season Will Fall About the Ninth.

The Rev. Irl R. Hicks reveals that the Democrats will have everything in their favor election day by his weather predictions for November. A regular storm period, which was first noticeable here the last day of October, is due, according to the Rev. Mr. Hicks, until after the election. His forecast for November is as follows:

Regular Storm Period is at its center on the 1st, beginning in October and reaching to November the 5th. The Moon is in perigee on the 3d and on the celestial equator on the 5th, and being thus nearest to us and on the equator, we may reasonably expect prompt and decided results. The barometer will show storm conditions by the 1st, in central parts of the country, on their eastward movements from western sections. The temperature will rise, the barometer will continue to fall, cloudiness will increase, and about the 3d, 4th and 5th, rain, wind and thunder storms will culminate during consecutive days, passing eastward to the Atlantic. Behind the storms the barometer will rise, winds will change to westward, with snow squalls and much colder weather.

A Reactionary Storm Period falling on the 6th, 7th and 8th, with new Moon on the 8th, threatening weather will continue over from the 5th, bringing a return of falling barometer, change to warmer and increasing storms of rain and wind on and touching the 8th and 9th. These storms will end in dashes of early snow and change to very much colder, about the 9th, 10th and 11th. From the 5th to the 11th, central on the 8th, general seismic unrest will be very natural and probable. We urge every reader to watch for all telegraphic reports of such phenomena, the world over; keep a record of dates on which earthquakes and storms are reported and prove to yourself and your friends whether or not these things happen in conformity to our theory and forecast.

A regular Storm Period involves the 11th to the 16th, being central on the 13th. At this period the moon will be at extreme south declination and atmospheric tides will flow from northerly directions, increasing the probability of cold rains and winds, added to snow and sleet over central to northern parts of the country. The Mercury and Venus periods will both be felt in the disturbances of this period, and to the end of the month. Storms of this period will culminate on the 13th, 14th, 15th and 16th—first to the west and thence progressively, day by day, to the eastward. High barometer and change to westerly winds and much colder will push the western flanks of the storm center, all the way to the Atlantic. One of the most important things to know, and keep in mind, is that rising temperature, falling barometer and fair weather precede storms, and rising barometer and colder, clearer weather will follow storms.

MAY MEAN NEW INDUSTRY HERE

If Local Men Could Sell Stock to Manufacture Corn Husking Machine.

WOULD TAKE BIG CAPITAL

Many Promoters Make Inquiries—Would Like to Have Chance.

Rushville may be the site of a great industry if the corn husking machine which has been invented and perfected by local men is manufactured here. There is a possibility that an effort may be made to sell stock in the concern, incorporate and erect a plant here.

That the invention is a success and that a corn husking machine is a much desired commodity is revealed by the fact that several manufacturers have already investigated and have expressed a desire to make a bid for the manufacture of it.

Agents for several concerns have conferred with the Rushville men who have perfected the patent with a view to manufacturing the husker. The men who have perfected the machine would much rather manufacture the machine themselves, but they realize that it would require a great outlay of capital, not only for erecting the plant and buying the machinery, but also to operate the factory until enough of the output had been placed on the market to place the business on a paying basis.

The fact, too, that there is a demand for this sort of a machine in only one season would combine to make a large capitalization necessary. No successful one has ever been placed on the market and there is every reason to believe that the machine perfected by the Rushville men would meet a popular demand.

The machine is the result of the inventive genius of Charles Younger of this city. He has been assisted in perfecting it by A. P. Walker and M. E. Newhouse. The machine was put to the acid test a few days ago, and the result was very gratifying to the men who have made it.

There are still a few minor changes to be made but no important mechanical defects are to be worked over. The machine is mounted on its own truck and can be drawn by two horses with ease. The gasoline motor on the machine operates the snapping and husking roles and elevators which carries the corn up and dumps it into the wagon which is drawn beside the machine.

MONDAY IS THE LAST DAY

Fall Installment of Taxes Must be Paid Then.

Politics has so absorbed public interest that some may forget, until too late, that the end of taxpaying time is drawing very near and will arrive next Monday evening. Still there are many who are not forgetting as the daily and hourly crowds at the treasurer's office for the past ten days attest. They are busy days for the county treasurer. The office is open every night from seven to nine o'clock so as to accommodate those who are busy all day.

PLOT ALLEGED IN KIGER CASE

Mother of Slain Man Introduces Evidence.

SAYS GANG SOUGHT HIS LIFE

The Recent Murder of Harry Kiger, a Terre Haute Politician, Is Declared by His Mother to Have Been the Result of a Conspiracy on Part of Certain Persons Who Feared He Would "Peach" in Registration Cases.

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 2.—Mrs. Clementine Kiger, mother of Harry Kiger, who was killed by Fray Dattle Ax Savage a few weeks ago, says she has evidence to support her charge that her son was killed because the gang thought he would turn state's evidence. Kiger had been a registration inspector, serving in a ward in which he did not live, and the gang thought he told tales "out of school." A short time before he was called out of a saloon and shot. Kiger visited a newspaper office, and this was known to the gang.

Mrs. Kiger says her son told her Don M. Roberts had berated him about another matter and that he had told Roberts he was "through doing dirty work for him." Mrs. Kiger says her son worked at night at home making out registration papers. She had twenty-five of them which her son had left in the house. Small cards had been made out containing names and addresses to fit with the registration applications. These cards had the number of voters listed at certain addresses. At one address the number was twenty. They averaged five to an address. An examination of the registration list showed these cards to be correct.

TO ENJOIN ROAD WORK

Man Files Petition Alleging Contract Is Not to Be Fulfilled.

Elkhart, Ind., Nov. 2.—A. H. Beardsley, a good roads enthusiast, has filed in the superior court a petition for an injunction to stop work on the five-mile macadam road on which one mile is nearly completed. His petition is based on the allegation that the advertisement and contract specify a fourteen-foot road. The commissioners instructed the contractors to build a nine-foot road.

A government expert declared the reduction in width was a mistake. The request to the commissioners to reduce the width to nine feet came from persons at a public meeting. The job was let for $29,900. The contractors are Kelleher, Miller & Irwin, of Frankfort. The commissioners, contractors, surveyors, county treasurer and auditor are made defendants.

Wants to Be Heard in Future.

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 2.—Adolph Melzer, who gave $1,000 that will, by compound interest, make Evansville worth $19,956,400.13 in 2162, will read his letter to Mayor Heilman into a phonograph, that his voice may be preserved and heard by the people living in Evansville two and one-half centuries from now. Fearing that the present contract may disintegrate and drop to pieces from age, Mr. Melzer will propose that the contract be examined every twenty-five years, and renewed if it shows evidence of wear.

Failure Made Him Despondent.

Danville, Ind., Nov. 2.—William W. West, formerly of Indianapolis, committed suicide here by taking carbolic acid. He had failed in business and despondency was the cause. West was forty-two years old and was a bachelor. Some months ago he sold his farm near Linton and invested in a grocery store in Indianapolis and lost his money.

Shot During Political Quarrel.

Valparaiso, Ind., Nov. 2.—While the two men were talking politics here, H. Behrend of Chicago became so enraged that he shot Bracken Bain in the head. Bain, who is a New York drummer, will recover. Behrend is a Taft man, while Bain favored Roosevelt.

Driving Wolf Team Overland.

Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 2.—Riding in a buggy drawn by five wolves, Frank Yomer and Darius Young, both from Seattle, Wash., have left here for New York. They left Seattle on their trans-continental trip last May and expect to reach New York before winter.

State Making a Test.

Marion, Ind., Nov. 2.—William A. Thompson, a chiropractor of this city, is on trial in the circuit court on a charge of practicing medicine and surgery without a license. The case is to be made a test as to the right of chiropractors to practice in this state.

Made Death Doubly Sure.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Nov. 2.—A woman who committed suicide has been identified as Mrs. Edna Luckry of Elkhart, who came here a short time ago. She was a servant. She took morphine tablets and then turned on the gas.

A severe hurricane off the west coast of Mexico and Central America has wrought much damage.

AMUSEMENTS

The most sensational success on the English and American stage today is James Montgomery's comedy, "Ready Money." Its story reveals a remarkable knowledge of human nature and the invariable human weakness for following the band wagon.

"You don't have to have money to make it," argues Jackson Ives, counterfeiter. "All you have to do is to make people think you have it."

"Nothing succeeds like success," admits Stephen Baird, the hero, after he realizes the wisdom of the counterfeiter's words.

Before that happens, however, a very good deal of fun and real humor is developed out of Stephen Baird's misfortunes. All of his friends are prosperous, but he is in hard luck, with only a quarter in his pocket and his seemingly worthless mining property about to be taken from him in default of payment of a $20,000 note. It is New Year's Eve, a time for jollification. But not for Stephen. Several times he sees money in sight that evening, only to have it taken away from him, leaving him deeper in gloom than before. The final straw comes when his girl to whom he is engaged, starts to give him back the engagement ring, then relents and keeps the diamond herself, thereby depriving him of a final hope of realizing on something. At this juncture the counterfeiter steps into the story and then begins a series of dramatic and comedy situations that keep the audience in an alternate state of laughter and suspense until the final surprise is sprung.

"Ready Money" will be the attraction at the Shubert-Murat Theatre, commencing Monday, November 4th. Wednesday and Saturday matinees. Election returns will be read from the stage Tuesday night.

A SURPRISE.

A basket social was held at the Big Flatrock Christian church Wednesday night, October 23. Just before summer it was announced, the church and Sunday school in appreciation of the services and personal work of Miss Lavonne Wagoner, organist, during the recent revival, would present her with an oak rocker and foot stool. Two young men of the "Loyal Sons" class made their way through the crowded aisle to the front with the chair. No one seemed to be surprised but Lavonne had her parents. "This being so unexpected I could not speak, so I wish in this way to express my grateful thanks to each and every one of the seventy-five donors for the beautiful oak rocker which I consider very precious and will always be evergreen in memory."

LETTERS BEARING ON THE DYNAMITE CASES

Federal Jury Hearing Much Documentary Evidence.

Indianapolis, Nov. 2.—In the dynamiting cases the district attorney began the presentation of letters to the jury, beginning with the ordering of the strike against the American Bridge company in 1905, when many letters passed between officers of the iron workers relative to the open shop policy of the company. There are about a thousand letters to be read to the grand jury.

Some of the letters showed that the union was having trouble in holding some of its members in line. A letter from George Hagerty of Phillipsburg, N. J., to McNamara, Dec. 11, 1905, said representatives of the employers were getting union men to tear up their union cards and go to work.

"If we don't put a stop to this gang, the chances are they will be 'open shops,'" says the Hagerty letter, referring to several big construction jobs about to begin. "I am requested to write to you," the letter continued "and ask if you can do anything for a few good strong-arm men to go in here and clean things up."

"The reply of McNamara was that he had referred the situation to Ryan. He added: 'If I can be of any assistance to you, I will let you know as soon as I hear from Ryan.'"

Fisher to Stick on the Job.

Washington, Nov. 2.—The secretary of the interior, Walter Fisher, will be the only member of the president's official family who will not have the privilege of voting for his chief in the coming election. Secretary Fisher, having been away over two months in Hawaii, was unable to register in his home city. The secretary will remain in Washington "on the lid" while the other cabinet officers are voting in their respective states.

Close Contest in Cuba.

Havana, Nov. 2.—The Cuban presidential election passed off quietly. There was no important disturbance and both sides are claiming victory.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS For Headache Nervousness and Backache due to disorders of Kidneys and Bladder

HOW I. E. WATSON VOTE IN BALLOT BOX DEFEATED A. J. B. IS ONE THAT COUNTS

Reply is Made to Attack on Former Congressman in the Shelbyville Republican.

OFFERED TO HELP IN 1910

But He Was Spurned by Beveridge and All of His Several Henchmen.

Some Progressive contributed an article to Tuesday's Shelbyville Republican headed "Watson Analyzed; Why He Stands Pat," in which article is found the following: "His remarks regarding Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Beveridge were the result of personal pique and spite. Two years ago Mr. Watson was given credit for assisting in the defeat of Mr. Beveridge."

The Shelbyville News says: Now the facts regarding this statement, according to Elmer Bassett, who was a member of the Republican State committee, are as follows: That Mr. Beveridge declared he was the "issue" in the campaign; and he further said that he did not need the help of Mr. Watson.

Mr. Watson, two years ago, through Mr. Bassett, tendered his (Watson's) services to the committee and offered to speak throughout the State for the Republican party. He promised that he would make Republican speeches; that he would defend the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill, and yet criticize some of its schedules; that he would not criticize Senator Beveridge for any speech he had made in the Senate or for any vote he had cast in the Senate; that he would ask the voters to support the entire Republican State and county candidates, and especially the candidates for the legislature. That the offer was refused by the committee; that the same offer was made to the executive committee and likewise refused, and that it was then made to Ed Lee, chairman of the committee, and to Mr. Springer, chairman of the speaker's bureau, and was, by them, refused.

Now the gentleman who wrote the article writes that Watson was given credit for assisting in the defeat of Beveridge. There is just one of two things about the statement that is true and that is that he does not know the facts or that he willfully wishes to misrepresent the facts. We do not know the name of the author of this article but refer him to Mr. Bassett for the facts. Will he be so considerate as to investigate?

DURBIN'S DARE.

"I have asked you (Beveridge) the question. You will not answer it, I know, but I want to give you the second opportunity to do so: Where did the vast sum of $85,000 come from two years ago, an unheard of sum in an off year election in the state of Indiana? How much of it came from Mr. Perkins? Do not deceive the people, Mr. Beveridge: we are asking them to vote to use—let us be honest with them. I dared you to do it. I repeat the dare now. You have always claimed to be clean in politics; such a slush fund as you had two years ago, when you were the issue, does not corroborate your claims."—Col. W. T. Durbin.

MR. GRAY'S CONDITION.

Connorsville News: Congressman Finly H. Gray, who has been confined to his home on Seventh street for the last few days, is somewhat better. He has been severely ill, and is still unable to leave the house, but is sitting up and is mending. A severe cold and perhaps some attendant kidney trouble constituted his ailment.

Danger of Democracy.

The tide is turning toward President Taft. The American people are realizing the danger which confronts them in the possibility of a Democratic party, in its platform, adopted at Baltimore, declares that the protective system is unconstitutional. Professor Wilson is a confessed free trader. He testified before the tariff board in 1892 that he was in favor of the repeal of all

Sam Sanderson Says:

That there was snow at some points in Indiana yesterday but the real snow is coming next Tuesday.

Editorial Notes.

"Jensen is The Man Of The Hour. Voters of the Sixth Congressional District of Indiana regard him as Their Risen Leader." We reprint this from a Shelbyville paper because it is better than any joke we could clip.

Being a risen leader must be a fine little job. There was always a faint idea simmering in our breast that he had resurrected from some place.

The newspaper regulators in Congress have not yet required the printer's devil to file a statement at Washington, but that omission will be supplied later.

Murderer Becker, who destroyed life, gets the flowers and sympathy messages, while those who save life can take the short end of the chance for a Carnegie medal.

Sunny Jim Sherman died from overwork, an exception to the general idea holding public office is as good as a vacation.

In view of the success of the husking, a hopeful way of promoting agriculture would seem to be to put the girls to work in the cornfield.

When a candidate referred to his opponent as an infamous miscreant and an atrocious rascal, the feeble applause from the galleries suggested that he should warm up and hand his opponents a few hot ones.

VOTE AGAINST TAFT?

It is because you are dissatisfied, and don't know why you are dissatisfied. There is not the first reason for even a Democrat to be dissatisfied or even to vote against Taft.

If he is a merchant he has had four years of the best trade of his life under Taft's Administration; if a mechanic, he has the past four years received the best wages of his career; if a common laborer he has worked more hours and received more wages than ever before for the same work; if a real estate man he has had more calls for money than ever before; if a farmer, what are his troubles? He has had more demand for his product than at any time in the history of the farm. Many farmers, who six or eight years ago were renters, now own their farms and many more who have saved up a goodly sum and bought high priced land still are indebted and have mortgages on their farms and their homes. Are they ready to vote for a change for cheap labor and cheap land?

Four years as recorder of Rush county has put me in a position to know that more than fifty per cent of the farmers, and laborers of this county are not ready for a return, to that old tariff-for-revenue-only. Didn't Mr. Ralston tell you in his great tariff speech what they would do? Hasn't every Democratic speaker told you so, and this time it might be a permanent thing if Gov. Marshall should see fit to so change the Constitution of the United States, as he sought to do the Constitution of Indiana; hasn't the price of hogs and cattle gone down the past week with a possible prospective chance of Wilson being elected. Ruin the farmer and the wheels of commerce stops!

How about the man in the factories of Rushville and elsewhere? How many days have you lost in the past four years because of your factory being closed for want of orders?

Before you vote against Taft next Tuesday, ask yourself how many days you are likely to be out of work in the next four years if Wilson is elected and free trade reigns. Our local Democrats say they won't, but their platform says they will. They are pledged to. Their boss says it has got to come, and he wrote the platform and nominated Mr. Wilson. Who? W. J. Bryan, chief of all old ideas that have brought disaster to us. Under those conditions what will become of those who are trying to get a home through the building associations? Ask yourselves the question Mr. voter?

Why only today a Democratic friend said to me: "I can't see what any Republican can have against Taft. His administration has been all that could be desired. Seventeen years ago I saw at one time 150 men standing and seated around the old court house square begging for work at 50c per day or any price they could get, many offering to work for their board. It is not so much the cost of high living today as the cost of living high.

And now one word to the old soldiers who marched under the shadow of that starry banner over a thousand bills, and shed his blood on a thousand fields of battle will you desert the party that kept every star in its place, and follow the teaching of a party that does not even refer to our flags in their platform, and has no banner to call its own.

Did Gen. Grant, when defeated for a third term, desert his party? Did he organize a third party? Old soldiers, wouldn't it be wise to follow the example set by that great warrior and statesman?

Forty years ago, coffee in the green was 20 and 30 cents; old brown sugar 8 1/3, white sugar, 10 and 12 1/2, coal oil 30 and 40c. per gallon and John D. didn't have a corner on it either.

It has been said that revenge is sweet, but Oh! how bitter the results!

Respectfully,
CLELL MAPLE.

THEORY OF FOUL PLAY ADVANCED

Charles Eck, Last Seen at St. Paul
Last Saturday, Has Disappeared
From His Home.

NO REASON CAN BE FOUND

According to a story published in the Indianapolis Sun, Charles Eck of that city has disappeared and his whereabouts is a mystery to his family. His brother stated that he left his home last Saturday to go to Shelbyville to pay taxes and that was the last seen or heard of him. His family is said to be worried for fear of foul play.

Eck was a farmer and lived near St. Paul, until a few months ago when he went to Indianapolis and engaged in erecting two or three houses.

The man who is alleged to have disappeared was in St. Paul last Saturday and was in communication with several men. To them he did not divulge any intentions to leave his family and the story comes as somewhat of a mystery. Eck is about 45 years of age and is a son of the late George Eck. He has a wife and several children.

LEAGUE INDORSES GOV. W. T. DURBIN

Says Republican Candidate Has Been
A Consistent Champion of
County Local Option.

REVIEWS CANDIDATES' ACTS

Condemns Beveridge For His Stand
on Question in Recent Campaigns.

The Indiana Anti-Saloon League has officially indorsed W. T. Durbin, Republican nominee for Governor; Thos. T. Moore, Republican nominee for Lieutenant Governor, and Clifford Jackman, Progressive nominee for attorney-general.

The indorsement is made in the American Issue, the official organ of the Anti-Saloon League, in the publication of October 29. The Issue says:

"Friends and supporters of the Indiana Anti-Saloon League, particularly Issue readers, have a right to expect the league to give them trustworthy information for their guidance in the coming election. This the league proposes faithfully and fearlessly to do, although such recommendations may be misunderstood and misrepresented by others, and in spite of the fact that our enemies will insist that the league is partisan, which is untrue.

"The league indorses or opposes candidates only, and the one issue on which the league bases its recommendations, when made, is the temperance question. With the attitude of candidates upon other issues the league has nothing whatever to do.

"In making recommendations for candidates for state offices the league does not recommend any candidate because he belongs to a certain political party, nor does the league oppose any candidate because he belongs to another party."

In summing up its recommendations of the various candidates for Governor, Lieutenant-Governor and attorney-general, the Issue says:

"Samuel M. Ralston, Democrat, is running on the brewery-trust-made platform of his party, therefore is not acceptable to temperance people.

"W. T. Durbin, Republican, defended county option on the stump four years ago, publicly deplored its omission from his party platform two years ago, was one of the first leaders of his party to declare in its favor this year, and in his keynote speech made an admirable argument in its favor, as a matter of principle and conviction. And he has in other ways shown his interest in the temperance cause. People who know him best say his promises are always kept.

"Although running on a party platform which has a county option plank in it, yet in all frankness we must say that Albert J. Beveridge, Progressive, did not defend county option on the stump four years ago, that he must be held responsible for its omission from his party platform two years ago and for failure, after its omission, to defend it on the stump during that campaign, and that he has not defended it specifically in the present campaign, and to put it in the most charitable form, has apparently been without convictions on this question.

"Therefore, the league recommends Durbin as being preferable to Albert J. Beveridge.

"William J. O'Neil, Democratic nominee for Lieutenant-Governor, has been a brewery attorney and is a pronounced 'wet.'

"Frederick Landis, Progressive, has never, prior to this campaign, taken much, if any, interest in the temperance cause.

"Thomas T. Moore, Republican, is the author of the Moore remonstrance law, also of two other good temperance laws. Furthermore, as a state senator he voted for the 'blind tiger' and county option laws, supporting them with all his influence.

"Accordingly, the league recommends Mr. Moore for Lieutenant-Governor.

"Thomas Honan, Democrat, present attorney-general, was a member of the legislature in 1907 and usually voted with the liquor element. As a leader of the minority in the house in the 1908 special session, he led in the fight against the enactment of the county option law.

"H. Wurzer, Republican, has been a brewery attorney and a pronounced 'liberal' on the liquor question.

"Clifford Jackman, Progressive, is a pronounced 'dry.' He has for years been a leader of the temperance forces in Huntington county, and the league earnestly recommends him for attorney general."

RALLY FOR MONDAY NIGHT

Republicans of Knightstown to Close
Campaign With a Flourish.

The Republicans of Knightstown and Wayne township will close the campaign in Knightstown on Monday night, when ex-Governor W. T. Durbin, of Anderson, now a candidate for re-election to that office and ex-attorney General James Bingham, of Indianapolis will speak at the Allambra opera house. These two gentlemen are among the most important speakers in this campaign and will present the issues of the day in a clear and forcible manner. There will be plenty of good music by bands and glee clubs. A general invitation is extended to everybody.

THIS IS COLDEST DAY.

Today was the coldest one of the season thus far. The thermometer registered twenty-five degrees, seven below freezing, this morning, and the mercury has not been able to get above forty degrees all day. The period of low temperature, it is predicted, will last over Sunday.

FUND TO BUILD COLLEGES

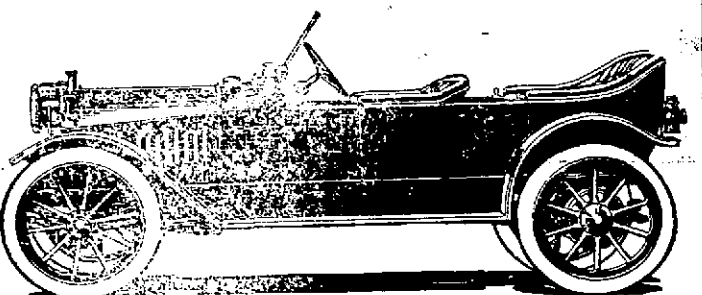

People on the streets election day will be asked to donate a dime, if they possess one, towards a fund for a memorial for the late General William Booth, founder and commander of the Salvation Army. Every Salvation Army corps in the United States will observe election day as tag day and will endeavor to raise five hundred and fifty thousand dollars. If this amount is not procured tag day, it will be made up by individual gifts.

Instead of erecting a statue to the memory of the venerable leader, it has been deemed the wisest plan to build training colleges, which will be the start of the "University of Humanity" which was long the fond dream of Gen. Booth.

MABEL BARRISON

Talented Actress Dead at Toronto After Long Illness.

She returned to Toronto last summer accompanied by her husband, Joseph Howard, the actor and song writer, and has since been living with her aunt.

STRANGE STORY TOLD BY PARIS NEWSPAPER

Nothing More Striking in the Files of Fiction.

Paris, Nov. 2.—The authenticity of this story, which reads more like the first chapter of a detective thriller than a statement of facts, is vouched for by Gil Blas. It concerns an American mother and her daughter, whose names the Gil Blas has not been allowed to give, but the paper asserts that they are well known members of society.

The story refers to the daughter, formerly Miss L., but now Mrs. W. The mother and the daughter arrived in Paris from the extreme west late at night on the eve of the opening of the 1900 Paris exposition. They went to a large hotel. The daughter in the morning knocked at her mother's door. She received no reply and made inquiries of the chambermaid as to her mother's whereabouts. The chambermaid insisted that the daughter arrived at the hotel alone, and the entire hotel staff made similar assertions. The daughter, who was almost distracted, made appeals to the American embassy and the police to search for her mother, but her efforts were without effect.

The daughter, heartbroken, then returned to America. She was visiting Biarritz a week ago, and now says that while there she overheard three men who were seated in the hotel salon discussing the mysteries of the great capital. One of them told a story which she recognized as her own. The speaker described the sudden death of an American woman in a Paris hotel at 2 o'clock in the morning. The doctors diagnosed the case as plague. As the publicity of the case on the eve of the opening of the exposition meant a catastrophe, the minister of the interior instructed the prefect of police to seize the woman's baggage, burn it with the body, disinfect the room and bind all the hotel servants who had seen the woman to deny her existence.

The daughter of the woman says she has not been able to get confirmation of the story, but is determined to make a thorough investigation before she returns to America.

GRANADA GRATEFUL

Its Women Convey Warm Tribute to Admiral Southerland.

Washington, Nov. 2.—A grateful tribute to Admiral W. H. Southerland and the American forces in Nicaragua tendered the American commander in chief by the women of Granada, has been made public at the state department. The women wrote the admiral a letter expressing their gratitude to him and his men for having relieved the inhabitants of the city of Granada from frightful menace from the rebels, and accompanied the letter with a bouquet of flowers from their own home gardens. After reciting the fact that recurring conflicts in Nicaragua have brought sadness to the country, the letter declares:

"On account of the shortness of your stay in this city we are not able to express to you personally our gratitude and profound esteem, so we send you a bouquet of flowers from our gardens, which in their perfume carry for you and your great and generous country the tenderest feelings of the women of Granada."

Balloon Has Not Been Heard From.
Berlin, Nov. 2.—The balloon Dueseldorf, with John Watts and A. T. Atherholt, two American aeronauts, on board, has not yet reported. The complete absence of news in regard to its movements since the balloon started on Sunday last from Stuttgart in the race for the international balloon trophy is causing much uneasiness.

EUROPE DUBIOUS OVER OUTCOME

Chancellories Amazed at the Success of Allies.

PEACE OF EUROPE MENACED

Grave Discussions Are Being Held in Contemplation of the Questions That Inevitably Would Arise Following the Imminent Fall of Constantinople.—In the Meantime the Allies Are Pushing Their Moslem Foes Hard.

London, Nov. 2.—Hanging over the Oriental railroad at Tchataldja is smoke from Bulgarian cannon. Twenty-five miles down the valley through which that railroad twists are the minarets of Constantinople.

Far behind to the northwest of the victorious Bulgarians their artillery is hammering at the fort of Adrianople, and to the southwest of the besieged city the Bulgarian troops are tramping through the streets of Demotika.

Somewhere between Adrianople and the Ottoman capital along the line of the torn-up railroad, is what is left of the army of Nazim Pasha, if that Turkish commander and war minister is not already captured. He or his representatives, send word to Constantinople that the right wing of his army at Viza, on a line with Adrianople to the east, is marching north with their backs to the Black sea. Mukhtar Pasha, say these reports, has defeated a Bulgarian column and many guns and much ammunition have fallen into his hands. The Turks say they have captured the important town of Bunarhisar, near Kirk-Kilissee.

Earlier dispatches from Ottoman sources say that the Bulgars are being hemmed in on four sides.

At Adrianople the Bulgarians offered to let all the civilians leave the town and this offer was refused by the Turkish commander, who said that it could only be accepted if the garrison were allowed to go also.

A well-informed correspondent sends this about the fighting: "Bulgarian siege batteries posted at Kaduklei and on the heights began Wednesday the bombardment of the Turkish works at Schietantoka, Karagortzabja and Hadrikabja, belonging to a group on the northwest front of Adrianople. They are among the strongest forts. They are of modern construction, are well armed and have bomb-proof shelters. Their capture would bring about the fall of Adrianople."

"The bombardment lasted eight hours and was then resumed after an hour's interval. The effect of the Bulgarian guns was to draw a considerable reply from the Turkish guns which was ineffective. Meanwhile the Bulgarian infantry advanced to attack Marash and Karagoth. The Turkish garrison have made numerous sorties on this front, and there is a fearful battle. It is raging with varying success at the bridge over the Maritza river at Marash. The Turks have displayed extraordinary stubbornness and have brought up fresh forces."

"This is the most sanguinary battle the Bulgarians have had before Adrianople. They are displaying an admirable contempt for death. This is especially so in the case of the reserves who are under fire for the first time. Now that the Turkish main army is as good as destroyed it is probable that the investment corps before Adrianople will be strengthened and the assault on the fortress continued with increased energy."

Word comes from the Greeks that one of their torpedo boats blew up a Turkish cruiser in the Gulf of Salonika, killing many of the crew.

The Montenegrin attack on Scutari that has been marked by such stubborn fighting on both sides, seems to have suffered a serious check.

The Servians are sending fresh levies into those parts of Macedonia that have fallen to their arms, and are busy with the governing of that province. Many of the Arnaut tribesmen are coming over to the Serbs.

In the meantime in the chancellories of Europe the success of the allies is looked on with amazement, and in some quarters with chagrin. Should the Turkish capital fall there will immediately arise questions pregnant with danger to the peace of Europe. Austria's intervention and the immediate response of Russia are two things that caused a long conference at Paris between M. Poincare and the representatives of the powers. The proposal on his part for the powers to mediate between Turkey and the allies is vague and apparently aims to have the powers look on without seeking compensation while the allies split. The Bulgars say they won't stand interference, and that if Turkey wants to talk peace she must come to Sofia rather than Paris.

FUNERAL OF SHERMAN HELD THIS AFTERNOON

Last Rites at Bier of the Late Vice President.

Utica, N. Y., Nov. 2.—All joining in the sorrow of the people of this city, the president of the United States, many members of congress and representatives of the various departments of the government, attended the funeral of the late Vice President James S. Sherman, which was held here this afternoon.

Services were conducted in the First Presbyterian church, this edifice having been selected for the occasion because the Dutch Reformed church, of which Mr. Sherman was a member, was regarded as too small to accommodate the crowd.

Yesterday afternoon the body of Vice President Sherman was borne in solemn procession to the Onondaga county courthouse, and from 3 o'clock until 9 o'clock last night lay in state on a catafalque in the rotunda of the building. A detail of fifty soldiers from the Utica national guard company acted as a military guard during the lying in state. It was estimated that during the six hours the body lay in state, fully 40,000 persons passed the bier for a last view of the features of their neighbor, "Jim" Sherman. The body then was borne back to the Sherman residence. There it was kept sacred in the privacy of the family until the hour of the funeral this afternoon. Only relatives and intimate friends of Mr. Sherman were privileged to view the remains at the home.

LAYS THE BLAME ON HER HUSBAND

Lillian Conway Tells of Sophia Singer's Death.

ROBBERY WAS THE MOTIVE

Chicago Actress, Arrested With Her Husband After Flight Following the Murder of Their Friend, Confesses to the Police That Conway Killed the Girl in Their Apartments, but Says Murder Was Not Planned.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Lillian Conway-Ryall, sometimes called the "queen of burlesque," broke down under the rapid fire of questions by detectives and confessed that her husband, Charles Conway, formerly of Muncie, Ind., murdered Miss Sophie G. Singer of Baltimore last Monday night in a boarding house in Indiana avenue. Robbery was the motive. But murder was not intended. The "wooden-footed clown" of circus fame merely intended to stun the girl, that she could raise no outcry while Mrs. Conway and her husband made their escape, the woman told the police. That his wife has confessed has not been told to Conway, who is being kept in solitary confinement at the Stanton avenue police station.

Mrs. Conway told the police that she was not an actual witness to the slaying, but told of hearing a scuffle between her husband and Miss Singer, and seeing Miss Singer's body on the bed in the Conway bedroom just before they fled. She says her husband told her at that time that the girl was merely unconscious, and that they would better flee before she regained her senses.

In her statement she says: "Sophie and Conway got into a quarrel in Conway's bedroom. I left the bedroom and went into the dining room. Sophie was in her stocking feet and had her shoes in her hand. She came in the room and sat on the bed to put on her shoes. In the meantime I had left the room. I was out of the room three minutes. When I returned I saw Sophie lying on the bed. My husband said: 'We'd better leave here; she's unconscious.'"

The woman said the handkerchief found around Miss Singer's neck was Conway's. "He hit Sophie on the head with a billy made of a doorknob," she said.

Mrs. Conway said that while she knew her husband had no money before the murder happened, he had $35 after they left the house by a rear stairway and fled.

Brought to Chicago from Lima, O., where they were arrested, Conway and his wife were taken first to detective headquarters and then to the Stanton Avenue police station.

A dramatic scene in which William Warthen, who was to have married Miss Singer last Tuesday, and Mrs. Conway were the principals, followed the confession. The woman pleaded with Warthen for forgiveness, the police say, and begged him to kiss her, which he refused to do. Both were much affected.

NOT TALKING

President Declines to Discuss Question of Sherman's Successor.

New York, Nov. 2.—President Taft will reach here tonight, following the funeral of Vice President Sherman at Utica, for a final political conference. The president then will proceed to Cincinnati to cast his ballot and there await news of the national election results.

With the sudden death of the vice president came practically the termination of the president's campaign. The president had expected to make a few more political speeches, particularly from the rear platform of the train on his way to Ohio, but since the death of Mr. Sherman he will not do so.

The president will leave New York late Sunday so as to spend practically the entire day Monday travelling through his native state from the northeast to the southwest corners, but he will not make political talks if it can be avoided. At places where there are large crowds and there may appear to be a demand, he may pay a tribute to the late vice president and make a brief and earnest appeal. The president made it known that he would not discuss the matter of a successor to the late vice president as his running mate until after the funeral services. The subject may be discussed in the conference here tomorrow.

on and touching the 18th, 19th and 20th. There will be electrical storms centering on and touching the 19th, the date of the Moon's crossing the celestial equator. Under strain of both Mercury and Venus periods decided storms, culminating in snow and sleet, may be expected at this period. A general low barometer at this time will be ample warning of dangerous autumnal gales, especially on the Atlantic and over the lake regions. High barometer, with stiff gales and early cold wave.

A regular storm period involves the 23d to 28th. Watch your barometer. This period calls for violent autumnal storms. Rain, sleet and snow, fierce gales and a sweeping, cold wave following will be the order.

BIG DELEGATION FROM SHELBYVILLE

Special Train Will Haul Load of Enthusiastic Republicans For Tonight's Rally.

WILL BE BIG G. O. P. JUBILEE

The grand closing Republican rally in this section, the one that is expected to surpass all others in magnitude, enthusiasm, if possible, and attendance, is the one to be held at Rushville Saturday night, when it is expected thousands will be there to help make the event one of the real old-time soul-stirring Republican affairs, says the Shelbyville News.

The city band under the direction of Prof. Marvin Hill has been engaged to furnish music for the big delegation that will attend the Rushville meeting from this county. A number of Republicans from this city and county will go to Rushville, leaving over the 6-11 J. M. & I. passenger train and returning by a special train which has been chartered for the occasion. It is not known yet how many will go but many have already signified their intentions of making the trip and it is thought that there will be several hundred at the station awaiting the train when it pulls in Saturday evening.

Rushville's own distinguished citizen, James E. Watson, will be the principal speaker of the evening. Besides the music, enthusiasm, and cheering there will be fire works and a big parade, and everything will be done to make the evening the time of a great G. O. P. jubilee.

Yesterday morning the rural mail carriers began leaving the postoffice to go over their routes at seven o'clock. During the six summer months they leave at six-thirty o'clock.

TEAMSTER WAS STALLED ON TRACK

Tried To Flag Traction Car But Was to Late—Wagon Was Hit Broadside.

ONE OF MULES WAS KILLED

John Billings once wrote that "you never heard anybody say dead mule!" But then many things occur in these days that were unknown to this wise philosopher of the past generation. Last evening, about 6:30, as E. Winslow was crossing the track of the T. H. I. & E. interurban line at Stop 100 near Lewisville, he "got stuck" and a fatality resulted shortly thereafter. Mr. Winslow's wagon was loaded with baled straw, and he worked and worried for several minutes to pull out, but without avail.

Finally, looking to the east, Mr. Winslow saw the headlight of a car rapidly approaching. He ran a few feet toward the car, waving his arms in a frantic effort to attract attention of the motorman. But Winslow was too late. The car struck his wagon near the forward part, killing one of the mules, damaging the wagon, breaking the front of the traction car, and causing slight injury to the motorman, who was cut by broken glass.

Work began Thursday upon the erection of the Tabernacle on East High street for the Biederswolf meetings, says the Hamilton Republican News. The work is advancing nicely and it is expected that by night fall today the work of framing the structure will be well advanced. Don Cochran, who gives his time to the speciality of erecting large buildings for union revivals is directing the work. The men of Hamilton whether members of the church or not are asked to volunteer their services for this work. At least fifty men should report tomorrow.
